PERFORMANCE MARKETING

Performance marketing basically means when the clients approach the agency to create an ad in any format which could be a photo or video and instead of paying for the whole advertisement which is the traditional way the client only pays according to the performance of their ads, in other words, it is performance-based marketing. There is various way to determine payment for performance marketing plan for success.

Cost Per Click (CPC) :

Here the advertisers pay based on the number of times the ad has been clicked. This is an effective way to drive traffic to your site.

Cost Per Mille (CPM) :

Here the advertisers pay a price for every 1,000 impressions the ad receives. An impression is basically a view. It is also known as the Cost per thousand impressions.

Cost Per Sale (CPS) :

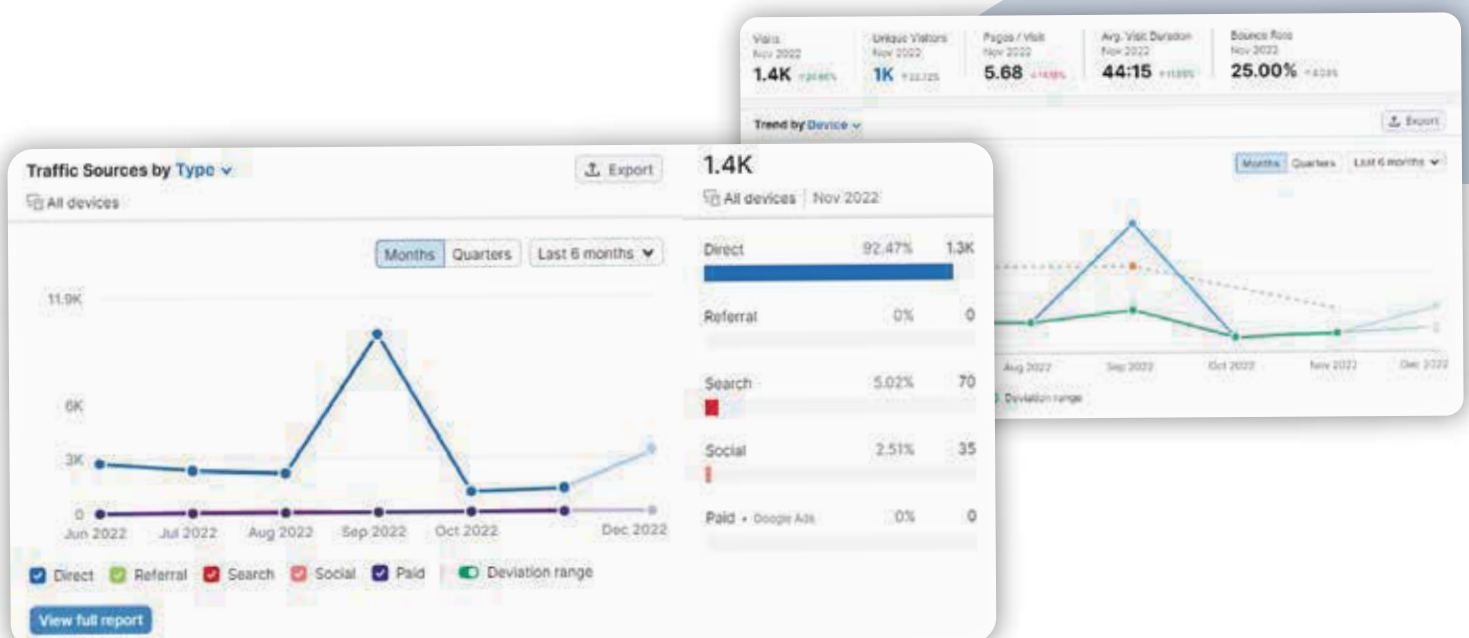

Here the advertisers pay for each sale which was driven by the ad, this method is commonly used in affiliate marketing.

Cost Per Lead (CPL) :

Unlike cost per sale(CPS) Here the advertiser pays only when someone signs up for an email or a webinar. CPL does generate sales.

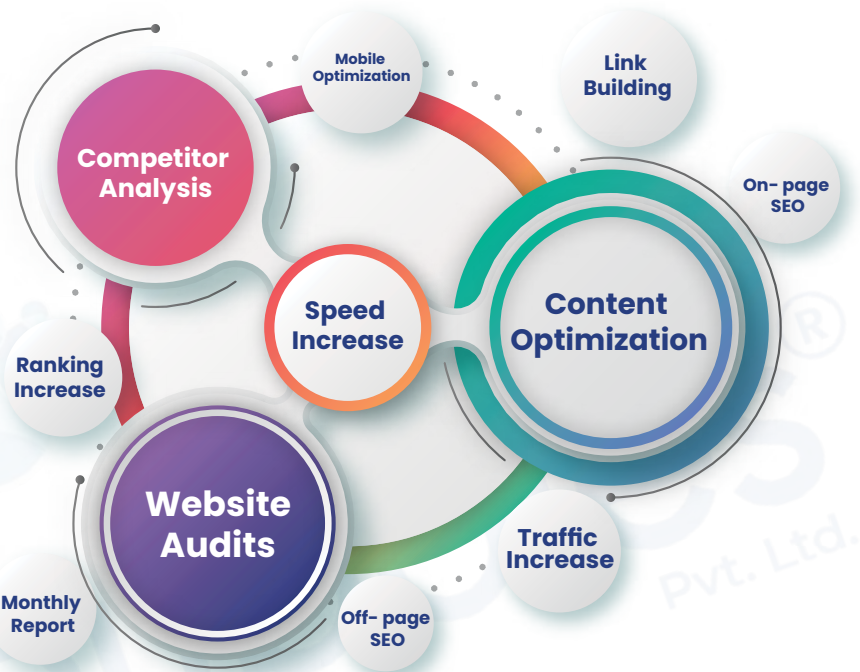

Cost Per Acquisition (CPA) :

Here the advertiser pays when the customer completes a certain action. For example, when he fills up the contact number or anything it is similar to CPS and CPL but is more general.
